

December 18, 2003

We hope you enjoyed our Christmas Concert last evening. The spirited performance by these talented young musicians and singers put us all in a joyful mood. We are grateful they have the opportunity to exhibit the dedication and hard work on the part of parents, students, stage crew and teachers in the music medium.

News from our recent graduates: Congratulations to Jillian O'Hara, a freshman at St. Basil's, who earned 1st place in the Health & Medicine category and 2nd place in the overall school Science Fair competition. We also extend congratulations to Nadia Wyrsta, a freshman at Archbishop Wood, who achieved first honors this marking period.

"Circles of Advent," a reusable Advent calendar go home today – a gift from Monsignor to the students.

Essays from 8th grade students who are taking the Neumann Scholarship exam in January are due on Monday, January 5th – a reflective activity for any "down" time over the Christmas holidays!

LUNCH ENVELOPES and JANUARY MENUS went home on Tuesday of this week and are due TOMORROW!! These envelopes are for the 2nd week of January.

Please save your old 2003 calendars and small, empty, plastic containers (i.e., yogurt and margarine) for the Art department. We will be using these things for future Art projects. Thank you.

Our wish for all of you this Christmas is that you may be warmed by the love of those you hold dear – whether they are here or gone;
may you find peace in your heart;
and may you be filled with hope for the New Year.
Merry Christmas!
